CIRCUITO PIEDRA CLAVADA - CUEVA DE LAS MANOS - VALLE LUNAR

Ruta León invites you to discover an unforgettable circuit that is only 30 km from Chile Chico in the direction of the route of the National Reserve Lago Jeinimeni (Lake Jeinimeni)

The program starts with a trekking of approximately 4/5 hours between valleys and streams, where we will stop in the middle of the pampas to enjoy the landscape thanks to the action of the climate that gives us an imposing formation of volcanic rock that has 40 meters of height, called Piedra Clavada or Enclavada (Nailed), the flora of the landscape welcomes us and makes it clear that it is a dry area where its bushes do not pass the meter and a half of height. The entrance is through a ravine that little by little is encased with strange rock formations and imposing walls that have been witnesses for millions of years and are part of steep ancient volcanic eruptions.

In this same sector we can visit the "Cueva de las Manos" (Cave of the hands) archeological monument and unequivocal evidence of nomadic nature of "Tehuelches" groups that left their mark in search of "Guana-cos" more than 5,000 years ago. In yellow and reddish tints you can see the traces of rock art that represented the presence of animals, information about settlements, water tanks and hunting routes.

The last section is on a slope that sometimes needs support from the trekking poles if you want to walk safer and approaches "Valle Lunar" (The Lunar Valley), which is named for the different colors of the rocks predominating white volcanic origin; the ravine and its height make recurrent "Cóndores" that fly over the valley and show their impressive flight. The view of "Valle Lunar" transports us to a landscape not very common in our country that with its silence and beauty makes the seven kilometers of walking worthwhile.
